Skating Carnival circles the globe

Edmonton may have hosted the world's finest skaters last week, but Elk Point's Skating Club went Around the World in 90 Minutes, at their annual show last week.

The evening started with a warm welcome from MC Calvin Leckie, and the national anthem by Randall Kryz. First to hit the ice, representing Canada, were the Senior CFSA skaters, Jenna Blanchette, Jena Bassett, Kandace Bjornstad, Julie Whiffen-Peters, Jamie Schnurer, Jennifer Aman, Kristyn Werenka, Dennell Anderson, Christa Lypka and Bomee Lee. The first solo of the evening was by tiny Daylan Hoffman, who skated to "Puff The Magic Dragon."

From the land of fantasy the show moved on to Russia, represented by Jessica Hancock, Andrea Lee and Darby Westly, in their colorful costumes. A pounding African beat accompanied Jena Bassett's solo, then it was off to Australia, where straw hat and shorts-clad Kristin Campbell, Jessica Lee, Amy Miller and Mallory Paquette skated to a southern hemisphere sound.

Closer to home, it was Kandace Bjornstad with a rousing solo to Born in the USA. Then we were whisked across the seas to Ireland, where Brittany Ballas, Catherine Campbell, Megan Miller and Garrett Osinchuk were three cute colleens and a lively leprechaun. Bomee Lee skated to a haunting Spanish number.

Next, a visit to Hawaii, with Kristyn Ballas, Ashley Bochon,

Bull Chuters pack them in Elk Point Ag Society's second annual Bull Chutin' Classic was a huge success. The Fairgrounds Arena was packed with spectators as thirty top bullriders pitted their talents against the awesome stock provided by Les Trach Rodeo Company and Muriel Lake Rodeo Stock.

The first round of rides saw 13 qualified rides, with Brad Schmidt of Coronation marking the highest, with a 75 point ride on Trach's One Whacker. Close behind were a pair of 73s turned in by Dion Roscoe of Brosseau on Trach's Checkers and LJ Goodeagle, Cluny, on Trach's Two Moons.

Twelve contestants went back for the final round, taking on a set of exceptional bulls. Only four of these made the eight second whistle, with Greg McKinney of Edmonton making the winning 83 point ride aboard Muriel Lake's Cracker Shock. Wes David of Airdire was a close runner up with 82 points on Muriel Lake's Crack Up, with Jace Harty of Lacombe close behind with 81 on Trach's Roan Command. Trevor Davies of Glaslyn, SK marked 70 on Muriel Lake's Race For The Border in the only other completed ride of the round.

Bullfighters for the CPRA-sanctioned event were Bobby Morrison and Darcy Cummer, while Darrell Wickham and Ben Lowry did the judging. Elk Point's favorite rodeo announcer, Bernie Poitras, provided the commentary.

The evening wound up with a sand dance.

Icy roads a factor in both of Wednesday's crashes

Two women were injured in two separate crashes last Wednesday, when compact snow and ice made driving in the area hazardous.

Lesley Fransworth of Bragg Creek, AB suffered minor injuries early Wednesday morning three miles north of Elk Point when her north-bound mini van was in collision with a southbound car driven by Tom Melnyk of St. Paul. Ms Fransworth attempted to slow down for a parked semi truck, and skidded into the path of Melnyk's car. Melnyk was not injured. The incident is still under investigation.

A single vehicle accident at 3 p.m. that afternoon injured Julie Paquette of St. Paul, when she lost control of the pickup truck she was driving on the icy highway and rolled into the opposite ditch.

This accident occurred about five miles west of the junction of Highways 28 and 41. Ms Paquette was treated for minor injuries at St. Paul's St. Therese Health Centre, and was later released.

THE WORLD STARTS WITH CANADA -- and this charming group of senior CFSA skaters were proud to salute their country with a talented routine. More pictures next week.

Car show moved to June 1

June 1 is going to be a big day in Elk Point. The Happy Daze Auto Show has been rescheduled to that date, which is also Elk Point 4-H MultiClub's Achievement Day and the first day of the Elk Point Spring Classic Stampede.

The auto show was originally slated for May 25, but it was determined that the earlier date conflicted with another major event on the auto show circuit. The planning committee feels the new date will fit in nicely with the rodeo and 4-H show, as visitors coming to town will be able to take in the auto show early in the day, before the other two events get underway.

REPRESENTING RUSSIA -- Jessica Hancock, Darby Westly and Andrea Lee, along with (not shown) Justyne Wozniak and Rachelle Dumont, were representing Russia at the carnival.

Elk Point Legion to host Zone Rally

Elk Point Branch, Royal Canadian Legion is hosting a Zone Rally at the Elk Point Seniors Recreation Centre on March 30 at 1:00 p.m. An exhibit of World War II plane models made by Lorne Dustow, Fishing Lake Settlement administrator, will be on display. Anyone interested in joining the Legion is welcome to attend.

The Legion's District Rally will be held in Cold Lake on April 13.

Elk Point Legion sent a contingent to bowl at an event in Bonnyville on March 16. Everyone had an excellent time.

Carnival circles the globe

Valerie Friesen, Michelle Leckie and Renita Osinchuk in grass skirts and leis, preceded a performance by special guests from the St. Paul Precision Team, who skated an excellent routine to "Saturday Night." The first half of the concert ended with a salute to Mexico by Jennifer Aman.

Following a brief intermission, presentations were made to coaches Sandra Lindenbach, Bernie Garveau and Lee Ann Wozniak, and to junior coaches Christa Lypka, Jamie Schnurer, Julie Whiffen-Peters, Jena Bassett, Michelle Leckie and Kandace Bjornstad. Ms Lindenbach presented a certificate to Dennell Anderson marking her latest achievement, and Darrell Wickham presented a donation to the club from Norcen Energy Resources.

Then it was back on the around-the-world trip, with a stop at Antarctica, where Helen Ramful and Diedra Nelson were colorful butterflies. Way up in Austria, Christa Lypka's solo was to "Climb Every Mountain." Heading south again, next stop was Brazil, with Kristyn Ballas, Ashley Bochon, Kristyn Buksa, Kristin Campbell, Valerie Friesen, Jessica Lee, Michelle Leckie, Amy Miller, Alyssa Osinchuk, Renita Osinchuk, Mallory Paquette and Chelsea Schnurer decked out in fruit-studded headgear and dangly earrings in the South American manner.

Guest soloist for the evening was the very accomplished John Feser of Lloydminster, who wore a classy black fedora and white blazer for his number, "Mr. Bojangles."

Newfoundland was represented by a plaid shirted trio, Ashley Hebblethwaite, Brett Hahn and Cassie Nelson, with a distinctive down-east number, and then we journeyed to Russia for Julie Whiffen-Peters' solo to a haunting tune. Southward to Germany, it was Kristyn Buksa, Alyssa Osinchuk and Chelsea Schnurer in big black hats and lacy aprons, followed by an Italian flavored solo by Jamie Schnurer.

A trip to a much warmer climate found us in the Rain Forest with Cassie Nelson, Diedra Nelson, Ashley Hebblethwaite, Brett Hahn, Daylan Hoffman and Helen Ramful, 'cute as bugs' with colorful wings and bobbling headgear.

"The Winds of Change" blew in a powerful solo by senior skater Dennell Anderson.

All skaters were back on the ice to receive their final rounds of applause for the Grand Finale.

FCSS — the history and the philosophy

Historically, Family and Community Support Services began with the origin of Preventive Social Services (PSS). In the 1960s, Alberta was a prosperous province, the world was a changing and hopeful place, and within that setting occurred some remarkable social developments. During that period, Alberta's Department of Public Welfare underwent a significant change in personnel. A new wave of individuals entered the Department as all the senior staff retired. Work on reforming Alberta's social programs began and continued through the 1960s.

The PSS program was intended by politicians to deal with increasing social programs from the perspective of prevention. Specifically, the program was developed to prevent dependence on public welfare by promoting individual independence from the state. The Preventive Social Services Act came into effect on July 1, 1966. The Regulations under the Act defined prevention as "designed to enhance individual and family life, and to preclude breakdown or dependence upon public funds."

Then in 1982, the Government changed the name of Preventive Social Services to Family and Community Support Services (FCSS). The focus was pretty much the same.

Today, in 1996, thirty years later, the preventive philosophy is still important. People helping people to help themselves is still taking place in our local communities. Elk Point is one of those communities. FCSS in Elk Point is now operating on a part time basis but we feel we will be able to be a vital part of the community in accomplishing our task. If you have any concerns, issues or ideas you wish to bring to our attention, please feel free to call our office or stop in to visit us during our new office hours of 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday to Friday. Our new FCSS Director is Deanna Easthope.

THE ART OF LISTENING

When I ask you to listen to me, I am not asking for your advice.

When I ask you to listen to me, I am not asking for your explanations.

When I ask you to listen to me, I am not asking for you to solve my problems.

When I ask you to listen to me, I am not asking for your judgement.

When I ask you to listen to me, I am not blaming you for my problems.

When I ask you to listen to me, I am asking you to be with me, to hear me, to let me work things out for myself.

When I ask you to listen to me, I am asking you to trust me...

so that I can feel free to share with you my feelings, my hopes, my concerns, my questions, my confusion, so that I can feel free to share with you ME.

And I in turn will listen to you.

By Fiona Daniels

Heinsburg Student Journalist

For the days of March 25th until 27th, Heinsburg School will be hosting Multicultural Days. Every day, a different traditional meal will be served at noon, and on the 27th, there will be displays and presentations for students to observe.

People in our area who come from a different country or have experienced a different culture will set up displays to enlighten students from grades 1 to 12 about other parts of the world. The countries that are going to be looked at are Australia, England, Malaysia, Switzerland, Hong Kong, Greece and Japan. There will also be displays about Native culture.

Students will also be fortunate enough to watch French Canadian dancers and traditional Metis dancers.

In conjunction with the Multicultural Days, we have also been having a daily trivia contest since the beginning of March. Each day questions are read to the Elementary and High School. The questions are designed to test the students' knowledge of other parts of the world. At the end of the contest, the students with the most right answers will get a prize.

What is Maundy Thursday?

By Rev. Sam Donaldson

Elk Point Christian Community Church

Next week is known as Holy Week in the Church calendar. We are familiar with the terms 'Good Friday,' 'Holy Saturday,' and also 'Holy Thursday.' Did you know that Holy Thursday is also known as 'Maundy Thursday'?

How did it get that name? What does 'Maundy' mean? What happened on Holy Thursday to warrant a special name for that day?

It was on the evening of the Thursday, in Holy Week, that Jesus assembled with his disciples in the Upper Room to celebrate the Passover. Thursday in the Roman Calendar, at sunset, was the commencement of the Jewish Friday. Passover day.

It was at that Passover celebration that Jesus washed the disciples' feet. By this he gave them an example of humility and service.

He also instituted the Lord's Supper or Holy Communion. He did something more. He gave his disciples a "new commandment," that they "should love one another."

Now a commandment is a "mandate." Jesus gave his followers a mandate on that Thursday evening. Thus, the name Maundy Thursday.

This mandate still stands. It behooves all Christians to love one another, and all others as well. Jesus also said, "by this shall all people know you are my disciples, if you love one another." Not always easy. Not always done. But binding upon all who call themselves Christians.

Nutrition Month

Dietitians deliver "Nutrition to Go"

No time to eat, let alone prepare a nutritious meal? You can eat well on the run if you make it Nutrition to Go! March is Nutrition Month and dietitians across Canada will be busy offering Canadians advice on how to incorporate nutrition into their busy lives—whenver and wherever they go. When you're on the go, healthy eating becomes even more important to maintain stamina—keep the principles of healthy eating in mind. Here are a few tips to get you started:

- * Breakfast gives you the energy you need to start a busy day. Get your day off to a good start at home—eat cereal with fruit, scramble eggs in the microwave, drink a blender shake made with fruit and milk or yogurt, or finish the leftovers from the fridge. If there's no time to eat at home, pack something or buy something to eat on the way or once you arrive.

- * Stock your office / lunchroom / briefcase with nutritious snacks that you can reach for on those "dining at your desk" days. Some suggestions from dietitians: hard-boiled eggs, fresh fruit, yogurt, crackers, cheese, leaner deli meats, cereal bars and cartons of milk or juice. Make your snacking choices count!

- * Reassess your fast food choices. If you pick up fast food regularly, consider the following: at a hamburger stand, choose a small sized hamburger and load up on lettuce and tomatoes. At the local deli, select sandwiches made with leaner meats like turkey, ham or roast beef on whole-grain bread and watch the mayonnaise and spreads. Ask questions about the food and how it is prepared!

Nutrition To Go!

Plan meals ahead of time to make shopping quick and easy. Think about your grocery list while you watch TV, ride the bus or wait in a lineup.

- * Batch cook meals on weekends and freeze. On time-crunched evenings, pull out a frozen chili, spaghetti sauce or stew and microwave. Use leftovers for lunches.

- * Keep your freezer and cupboard stocked with frozen vegetables, entrees and canned goods. These will provide shortcuts on busy nights when you still want a family sit-down meal.

Cut up carrots, broccoli, peppers and other vegetables when you have some time and refrigerate—they can be grabbed as a quick snack or quickly stir-fried or steamed as an accompaniment to pasta, rice or meat for a quick and nutritious dinner.

- * When time is short, grab a bite while walking to the car or bus, getting ready for work, sitting at your desk, or waiting between appointments or in lineups.

- * Dietitians recommend choosing a variety of foods from the four food groups of Canada's Food Guide to Healthy Eating. Choose leaner meats and lower fat dairy products, foods prepared with little or no fat, more grains, cereals, breads, fruits and vegetables.

Need more help? Contact a dietitian—your best source of reliable, up-to-date nutrition information—at your local health centre for more information or a copy of Canada's Food Guide to Healthy Eating.

Sugar and hyperactivity - exploding the myth

By the Registered Dietitians and Community Nutritionists

Lakeland Regional Health Authority

For many years sugar has been blamed for a variety of health problems. One of the most popular beliefs is that sugar affects the behavior of both hyperactive and normal children. Despite the fact that extensive scientific research does not support such a connection, there remains a widespread belief among the public, teachers, caregivers and parents that sugar makes children hyperactive.

The theory began in the 1970s when researchers, attempting to find causes for Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) suggested that certain foods may be the culprit. Since that time, considerable research has been devoted to the subject of whether diet affects children's behavior. In over 20 studies, including those supported by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration, there has been no evidence to support the sugar-hyperactivity link. Sugar intake does not have an adverse effect on the behavior of either hyperactive or normal children. Restricting diets for the purpose of improving behavior is therefore unnecessary.

Despite the evidence, the sugar-behavior link retains a loyal following among parents, teachers and even some health professionals. A recent study conducted to evaluate primary school teachers' beliefs, found that 80% of teachers surveyed still blame sugar for hyperactivity. Worse yet, 55% of these teachers had counselled parents to consider reducing sugar in their children's diets to improve behavior. The danger in this advice is that it may delay or prevent parents from seeking a proper diagnosis and an effective management program if their child has ADHD.

Very active behavior in children is common and can be the result of a variety of different factors including boredom, attention-seeking, the excitement associated with special events like birthday parties or Halloween, or from caffeine found in cola-type soft drinks.

With the exception of dental decay, there is NO evidence suggesting that sugar, when consumed at current levels, is a health concern. Sugar and sugar-sweetened foods can be eaten in moderation as part of a healthy eating pattern.

For more information on this or any other nutrition concern, please contact a registered dietitian / community nutritionist at your local health centre or health unit.

ROSES AND KISSES -- from grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren saluted centenarian Josephine Topylki on her special day.

FGM bands highlight noon hour with concerts

By Kelly Oszust

F. G. Miller Student Journalist

Last week, F. G. Miller Junior/Senior High School was alive with the sound of music. Practically every day, one of the Junior or Senior bands made its presence known by playing a variety of upbeat numbers during noon hour in the gymnasium.

The noon hour concerts began on Tuesday with the Grade Sevens. Their first selection was 'O Canada,' followed by 'Barbara Ann.' Their next selection was the 'Banana Boat Song,' next they played the ever popular 'William Tell Overture.' The last three songs of the concert were 'Ode to Joy,' 'Alouette' and 'The Camptown Races.'

Wednesday found the Senior High band next in line to thrill their fellow Crusaders with a number of upbeat songs. They began their lively concert with the swing classic 'In The Mood,' next they rocked the gymnasium with 'Got My Mind Set On You.' The next selection played was a little less exhilarating, it was called 'A Night At The Opera' which consisted of a mixture of famous opera numbers. They finished off their concert with an energetic number, 'I Feel Good.'

The gymnasium was unfortunately closed on Thursday, but the music prevailed. The Grade Eights had the gymnasium alive with students when they played the fun retro number 'YMCA.' Their next selection was 'Heart And Soul,' followed by 'When The Saints Go Marching In.' They ended their concert with 'Auld Lang Syne.'

All bands did a spectacular job in livening up the school during noon hour. As well, all numbers were marvelously conducted by Mr. Kryes. The noon hour concerts were a smashing success.

FGM does it again! Wapiti 33 1/3 a winner

By Denise Smereka
Former Yearbook Advisor

That's right, for the second year in a row, the Wapiti Yearbook Staff of the F. G. Miller High School has been recognized for all their blood, sweat and tears. The latest volume of the school publication Wapiti 33 1/3 — The Final Result received Honorable Mention (one of 12 in Alberta) in the Canadian Scholastic Review National Yearbook Competition. They received a score of 84 out of a possible 100 points. The book was judged in the senior high category and was up against city schools with large staffs, big budgets and large books. The caliber of our book, to put this all in perspective, is right up there with schools from Edmonton and Calgary, as well as Lloydminster. This is a tremendous honor and a great achievement coming from a school with a population of only 265.

The staff that worked on this award winning book are: Krista Seward and Christa Hammond (editors), Judy Kim, Christina Sereda, Yana Linke, Margaret and Andrew McGregor, Aaron Young, Derek Jamieson. Congratulations from Denise Smereka (former advisor). All your hard work has paid off.

An evaluation sheet accompanied the award. Here are a few of the comments made by the judges:

"An outstanding, creative yearbook with one of the best examples of theme development we've seen!" It's obvious a great deal of thought, time and effort went into your publication."

"Very creative student portrait pages."

"Outstanding written content, particularly headlines relate to and carry the theme."

"9/10 creativity."

"Outstanding theme development."

"Terrific use of graphics."

"Great concept on end-sheets."

"Humorous ads weaved in with real ones are a great idea."

There were also minor criticism that were noted that will help this year's yearbook staff improve on last year's book. An idea booklet was also included to help with the 1996-97 publication.

If you have only taken a quick glance at the book, take some time now and really look at all the hard work that last year's staff did to warrant the Honorable Mention award that they received.

Farmers could be billed an industrial tax for well sites

By the Heavy Crude Council

Most laws are good. Others are not so good. Occasionally legislators slip in a real stinker. Such legislation is the change in the Municipal Affairs Act that has been in force since October 1994. According to the present Act, municipalities are to assess and collect an industrial tax on oil and gas well sites from farmers instead of direct billing these taxes to the companies leasing the sites. This process of tax collection is to be enforced province-wide by 1997 unless this law is rescinded or amended.

As it stands at present, the Municipal Affairs Act requires that the land taken for oil and gas well sites, batteries, etc. be assessed industrial and be billed to the registered land owner, that is the farmer who holds title for the whole quarter. Fortunately, most lease agreements between farmers and oil companies have clauses stating that the oil company is responsible for the payment of municipal taxes. So the farmer should be able to collect this tax expense from the companies operating on his land if he cares to bill them and they are willing to pay.

The provincial government is in the process of reducing and eventually eliminating the machinery and equipment tax to industry. This year that reduction is to be 20 percent. To offset the loss of revenue to municipalities, the government decided to assess well sites as industrial sites. Furthermore, not to look as being the bad guys to the oil industry, the government decided to bill this industrial tax to the registered landowner, the owner of the rest of the quarter section. Let the farmer do the dirty work for recovering this tax expense from the oil companies, if he cares to take the trouble and if his lease agreement permits him.

We welcome the change in assessment. We always believed that when a parcel of land is used for any other purpose than agriculture, it should no longer be assessed as farm land. This will reflect the true value of that parcel. But we do not agree that these industrial taxes, in this case for well sites for mineral access, be billed to the surface owner.

Within the heavy crude areas, where the amount of land taken by oil and gas wells is considerable, the farmer could see his taxes increase by several hundreds of dollars per quarter. He has no other alternative but try to recover this expense from the oil companies. This may not be an easy task.

This process of tax collection was an issue at the last annual meeting of the Alberta Surface Rights Federation held at Camrose last month. Many impacted landowners, reeves and other municipal councilors present expressed their concern with the legislation. We now have good reasons to believe that the Minister for Municipal Affairs, Tom Thurber, is beginning to appreciate this nightmare this billing process could create, and steps are being taken to alleviate the problem. In the meantime, farmers with well sites on their land should continue to contact their MLAs to insure this bad law is amended.

What's news at the library?

These new books are great for spring reading

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

The spring of 1996 has been a bit of a disappointment weather-wise so far and so while we can't all get out in our gardens yet, we can still start planning for the upcoming growing season. The library has several books in its collection geared specifically to gardening in our part of the world, including a wonderful one titled Designing Alberta Gardens. Check them out.

The weather we've had lately is perfect for spending the day indoors curled up with a good book. Here are a few new ones that might pique your interest:

In Danger's Hour by Douglas Reeman. The story of the fleet minesweeper HMS Rob Roy during the 14 months from April 1943 to D-Day and her captain, Lt.-Commander Ian Ransome, and her crew.

Archie McNally takes on the case of a bird store owner who is being threatened and is then stabbed to death in his sleep in McNally's Puzzle by Lawrence Sanders.

A financial crisis threatens the existence of a boys' choir and drags all sorts of people into the battle in The Choir by Joanna Trollope.

Kim Newman writes books where the existence of vampires alters history. In The Bloody Red Baron, World War I becomes a battle, not only between the Great Powers of Europe but between two vampires, Graf Von Dracula, commander-in-chief of the armies of Germany and Austria-Hungary, and Lord Ruthven, prime minister of Britain. Throw in Baron Von Richtofen, a resurrected Edgar Allan Poe, a radical vampire journalist and an intelligence officer eager for fame and glory, and you have the mother of all war stories.

Twelve-year-old Nathan Bailey escapes from a juvenile detention centre after killing a guard. His flight captures the attention of an entire nation when he pleads his case on a syndicated radio show. Now a battle weary cop may be Nathan's only hope as a killer closes in on him in Nathan's Run by John Gilstrap. Don't be surprised to see this one at a theatre near you.

A Maiden's Grave by Jeffrey Deaver is a tense and exciting rollercoaster ride. When a trio of escaped criminals take eight deaf schoolgirls and their two teachers hostage it leads to a bloody standoff at an abandoned slaughterhouse and pits experienced hostage negotiator Arthur Potter against killer Lou Handy. While Potter works to end the hostage situation, deaf teacher Melanie Charrol must overcome her terror to do what she can to protect the children in her care.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Spirit, you who makes me see everything and who shows me the way to reach my ideal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all that is done to me and you who are in all instincts of my life with me, I want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desires may be, I want to be with you and my loved ones in your perpetual glory. Any person may pray this prayer three consecutive days without asking further wish after the third day their wish will be granted.

No matter how difficult it may be, and promise to publish this dialogue as soon as your favor has been granted. L.L., R.L. & M.L.
